Into the holiday pool, the wave of pre-Christmas rush seems to have washed every social gathering, whether pretentious or modest and the social calendar is now high unto bane. But the rejuvenation is bound to come soon and indications seem to point that it will be first noticed in the great holiday for which we have been preparing so long.

On Christmas day the social threads will again be picked up for in nearly every home will be reunited families who gather around the Christmas dinner. These dinners are social events in the real sense of the word for no matter what home shelters the banquet in each will be found happiness and good cheer.

Beginning with Monday the season of society will open with such renewed vigor that it will be a bit strenuous for the very popular members and they will be taxed to participate in all the festivities. For seven days following Christmas there will be a dancing party every evening. Then invitations will be issued soon for a number of afternoon parties and several breakfasts and slumber parties will be arranged for the holidays and the week following the New Year.

HEART and HOME TALKS by Barbara Boyd

Distributing the Gifts.

IT ADDS to the jollity of Christmas Day if some unique way of distributing the gifts is planned. With the present keen interest in airships, if the man of the house is handy he can no doubt rig up a homemade aeroplane, which by means of cords, can come sailing into the room laden with gifts. He should test it thoroughly or it may break down and breakable gifts be injured, or only nonbreakable things could be placed in it.

In many a home the arrival of a messenger boy occasions thrills, and as thrills are quite in order Christmas, one of the children of the home could be dressed up as a messenger, come in and in a businesslike way deliver the various packages.

The pretty chatelaine of one happy home takes delight in having her gifts look as much like disreputable old bundles as possible. She does them up in newspapers and wraps them as though the butcher's boy had had a hand in their tying. Her loveliest gifts look the worst—on the outside. They are so grotesquely funny alongside the other Christmas-looking gifts the contrast causes much amusement.

Provocative of much merriment is the plan of hiding the gifts. Each person is given a little verse or sentence with sufficiently definite directions for finding the first gift. In this are rather vague directions for discovering the second, and so on. It means an eager, jolly hunt. They can all be hidden in one room or in various parts of the house.

A favorite method is to hang the gifts on the Christmas tree, and if something a little different is desired a snow tree is very pretty. The tree is liberally sprinkled with tufts of cotton, diamond dust and silver tinsel. The gifts should be wrapped in white paper and tied with white ribbon.

Rather clever is the idea of a clothesline stretched across a room and the gifts planned on it with clothespins. If articles of clothing are hung up unwrapped, and if bunches of holly are tied here and there on the line, it looks very gay indeed.

With many, nothing supplants Santa Claus. Father or big brother personates him, and in his pack are all the gifts. One family varied this custom last year by making a Santa Claus out of the gifts and having him seated on a chair. It was lots of fun studying out how to put him together, and in some respects he was apparel to which he is entirely unaccustomed. It was equally great fun to take him to pieces. A false face and some pillows sufficed for the foundation.

How to Get Rid of Your Constipation—Trial Free

It is too long a story to tell of all the different methods resorted to for the cure of constipation, ranging as they do from massage to stomach pads and from simple salts to powerful cathartics. It is only after a person has tried these makeshift methods that he begins to realize how futile they are.

Waste no further time on them but try being introduced to Syrup Pepsin in the form of a free sample bottle, sent direct to the home. Mr. J. A. Vernon of Oklahoma City and Mrs. S. E. Snyder of Canton, Ill., both used it for stubborn constipation of many years' standing and found anything better for constipation, per trouble, sick headaches, biliousness, indigestion and similar complaints.

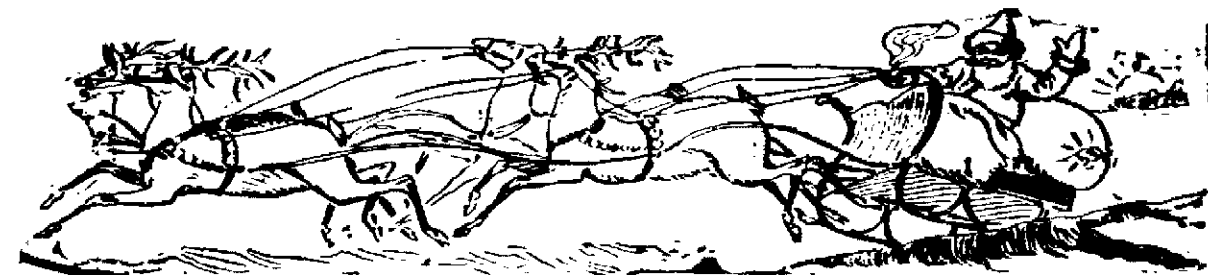

Dr. Caldwell does not feel that the purchase of his remedy ends his obligation. He has spent years in research, and he will be pleased to give the reader any advice on the subject free of charge. All are welcome to write him. Whether for the medical advice or the free sample address him Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 541 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

LOCAL ARMENIAN FALLS HEIR TO SMALL FORTUNE

Balaza Galo, an Armenian living in Wehrle's addition, and who came to this country with several other Armenians who were among Christians more or less persecuted by the Turks, has fallen heir to a small fortune in his native land. His Christmas present was notice of his good fortune received Thursday.

Galo's story is romantic. Like so many other young foreigners, he came to this country and left his sweetheart in the old country—at Erzerum, Armenia. He now expects to send for his fiancée, and if she will not come to him unaccompanied, Galo says he will go back to Armenia and bring her over with him. His heritage is equal to about $75.

CORN AND POULTRY EXHIBITION PROVE DRAWING CARDS

Good Crows Are in Attendance and Much Interest is Manifested—Corn Prizes Awarded.

The annual corn show of the Licking County Corn Breeders' Association, which has been so successfully conducted in Brennan's Hall, corner of Fourth and West Main streets, during this week, is now nearing the end. While the exhibit has not been as large as in former years yet the quality is better and goes to show that the corn association is making steady improvement in growing corn to type and its truthness to breed.

Six prizes were offered in each variety exhibited, the prizes being $2 to first, $1 to second, and 50 cents to the third, fourth, fifth and sixth best exhibits.

In Reed's Yellow Dent variety Geo. Garlington and O. J. Blamer of Johnstown took high honors as they did in the Leaning type.

In every other variety outside of Reed's Yellow Dent and the Leaning type, Orville Kiger and A. J. Ford carried off the honors.

For the best single ear, awards were made as follows: O. J. Blamer, first and second; Madera King, third; H. B. King, fourth; Madera King, fifth, and George Garlington, sixth.

In Colorado corn Samuel Hill was awarded first honors; George Garlington, second; Samuel Hill, third; Clint McKinney, fourth; Frank Holler, fifth, and Orville Kiger, sixth.

In White corn, George Garlington was awarded first honor; O. J. Blamer, second; George Garlington, third; Clint McKinney, fourth; J. Covert, fifth, and Orville Kiger, sixth.

In the Utility class Samuel Hill was awarded first premium; O. J. Blamer, second; Joseph Wilson, third; Alex Wilson, fourth; O. J. Blamer, fifth and Porter for Col. George Crawford, sixth.

The Poultry Show, which is the big attraction held in Brennan's Hall, is proving a grand success. As an educational feature for the farmers, it has never been equalled. As a part of the state. The exhibit this year is better than it has ever been and practically every breed of chickens is presented. The poultryman who visits this show is at once struck with the high quality of the exhibits. The show is well lighted at night, and this is a good time for seeing the birds. The attendance is good and the management feels much encouraged by the support given the show by the public.

Senator W. E. Miller has donated a handsome $10 carving set to the association, which will be given away to the person attending the show who holds the lucky number on Saturday night about 10 o'clock.

JOSEPH SIMPSON
Columbus Dec 23 1940

No feature of the national campaign for the conservation of our resources is more important than the reduction of the fire waste of the country. The work begun by President Roosevelt had to do chiefly with the conservation of natural and unutilized resources in the shape of growing timber, unmined coal and ore and undeveloped water. These are all important, but of even greater importance is the reduction of the annual fire waste of the country because into the building materials and manufactured products of the country has gone human toil and money which is wasted when it goes up in fire, and smoke as is the raw material of which they are composed. The public should understand that property destroyed by fire is absolutely wasted. Insurance may indemnify the owners but the money comes out of the public purse the same, and only a great growing and wealthy country like this could stand the enormous drain of $250,000,000.

GRANVILLE

Granville, Dec. 23.—The holiday vacation of the Granville public schools began Friday afternoon and will extend until Tuesday, January 3. Announcement of this effect was made by Superintendent Clemens. It had been thought by some that the vacation would be somewhat shortened, but such is not the case as the mid-winter vacation always extends until after the beginning of the new year. Very appropriate exercises were held in the schools on Friday. Some fine programs were carried out by the pupils and many of the parents were present. This brief vacation will have the effect of instilling new life and vigor into both teachers and pupils for the arduous work of the next term. The Granville public school has the reputation all over the country as being among the best in the state.

Merry Christmas! It is on everybody's lips from the stroke of twelve that ends the year of Christmas eve until the last candle has burned out on Christmas night. If you think of it at all you accept "merry" as meaning lively, sprightly and gleesome and wonder a bit perhaps at its preference. As a matter of fact when the English first used the old Saxon word in this connection, spelling it "merrie" it meant simply pleasant and agreeable, but the custom clings to it in spite of its changed character.

The Christmas wreaths are peeping out at the windows, and how good they look! For every wreath that hangs from a window, little or big, on the broadest avenue, or in the narrowest alley, is a cheery reassuring message. It says, as plainly as words can say: "We folks inside this house believe in Christmas—we've hung up this wreath as a sign—what cheer, fellow traveler? Do you believe in Christmas, too? Do you still give presents and want to get them (for the crusty old fellow who says he doesn't want presents is worse than the stingy one who doesn't want to give any, you know.) Do you, too, love all your friends a little more today because it is Christmas, and you want the world wide Christmas wish to come true in all the world and in your heart? Do you, too, believe in "Peace on earth and good will toward men?"

Arrangements are about completed for the Christmas exercises to be held by the several Sunday schools of the village. The Christmas exercises to be given by the children of the Presbyterian Sunday school will be held in the church on Sunday evening, and will take the place of the regular services. The Christmas treat will be given at the church on Monday evening.

Mr. George Larimore of Oklahoma, will arrive here Saturday for a visit during the holidays with his parents and relatives. Mrs. Larimore, who has been visiting in Newark for some days, will return with him to Granville.

Regular services will be held at St. Luke's Episcopal church Sunday morning. Service sermon and Holy Communion at 10 o'clock. An offering for the parish indebtedness will be taken up. Sunday school will be held immediately after this service. There will be no services in the evening.

Miss Dee Thornton, who is teaching at Paducah, Ky., has arrived home for the holiday vacation. Miss Edna Thornton, who is located at Ironton, arrived home Friday. There are many joyful reunions being held in Granville just now.

Miss Bettie Jones and Miss Shirley Slack will arrive here Saturday to spend a week with their parents. They are located near Sistersville, W. Va.

Prof. James Baldwin, Ph.D., of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., has arrived in Granville to spend the holidays with his parents. Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Baldwin, at their home on West Elm street.

Thomas Richards, one of the oldest and best known residents of Granville township, has been quite ill at his home on North street for some time.

ARE YOU DEAF?

Catarrh is Probably the Cause—Get Rid of the Cause.

If you have catarrh and have constant ringing noises in your ears look into the matter at once.

It's a pretty sure sign that catarrh is spreading and is making its way through the Eustachian tubes that lead from the nose to the ears.

When catarrh gets to the ears partial deafness follows. If you have ringing noises in your ears go to Evans' drug store today and get a HYOMEI outfit and drive out catarrh. To cure catarrh HYOMEI should be breathed through a pocket inhaler for a few minutes, four or five times a day. Just pour a few drops into the hard rubber inhaler and breathe it.

It kills the germs; soothes the irritation; heals the inflammation; stops hacking, spitting and sneezing.

HYOMEI keeps the throat free from mucus and prevents crusts in nose.

The complete HYOMEI outfit which includes the little indestructible hard rubber inhaler, a bottle of HYOMEI and simple instructions for use costs $1.00. Separate bottles of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at Evans' drug store and druggists everywhere, on money back plan.

ROYAL XMAS FESTIVITIES.

London, Dec. 23.—King George today dropped political cares for the time being and went to Sandringham for the Christmas season. The royal family is still in mourning for the late King Edward, but this will not interfere with the Christmas festivities, which will be indulged in on the usual extensive, though simple style.

"GIFT GERM"

IS ABROAD IN THE LAND AND MILLIONS WERE INOCULATED.

Will Cost People of the United States About Ninety Million Dollars This Year.

Washington, Dec. 23.—What Dr. Waxes would probably describe as the "gift-bearing germ," inoculated into the people of the United States, will cost this year about $90,000,000 in cash, perhaps $1,000,000 in gifts, a large amount of happiness, and also a large amount of economy.

This is a purely unofficial estimate based on by Victor H. Olmsted, chief of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture. In Olmsted's opinion, not more than one-half of the people of the United States this year will make Christmas presents that cost actual money. Of the remaining 40,000,000, a few will not give presents because they do not believe in the custom. More will not give because of their religious beliefs. Still more will not make presents because they live in out-of-the-way places, remote from stores. A vast number will not give because they have barely money enough to clothe and feed themselves and their families. Then there are other Christmas celebrants—farmers for the most part—who will send a farthing, buck or some other farm animal to relatives.

Of those who will actually buy presents, several millions are children, whose expenditures will range anywhere from ten cents to $1. A few of these children—very few—belonging to rich families, will spend more than $1. The estimated average Christmas expenditure of the children is 50 cents. The greater number of Christmas givers are adults, young men whose salaries run from $25 to $150 a month. They spend according to their salaries and their mental state. Olmsted estimates that the clerks with semi-society bent will spend, on an average, about $5 for gifts. The home-loving clerks will average about $1. Altogether, it is estimated that about 40,000,000 persons have already bought or will buy presents and that their gifts will average a little less than $2 a person.

MONTELLE WATHA

(Continued from Page 1.) before he reached the doors of the penitentiary he had become somewhat reconciled to the unavoidable, and that he had, to a considerable extent, regained his usual cheerful spirit. Watha has been placed in the idle house of the penitentiary for the present and will be kept there until some position can be found for him. In all probability he will be given work as a table waiter.

JUDGE MANSFIELD'S CHARGE.

In sentencing Watha to the penitentiary at hard labor for 20 years, the Court said:

"You may stand up, Mr. Watha. The Court is about to pronounce sentence upon you. The Court might say a good deal and might make observations concerning the facts developed by this record, and, under ordinary circumstances the Court would make some observations, in language which would be plainly understood, not only by yourself, but by others, but in view of the fact that there are some twenty-four other persons under indictment for a similar offense for which you have been tried, this Court will refrain from making any observations along those lines, for fear that it might be misunderstood. So, in dealing with this matter, in which you are so seriously a party, the Court is simply going to deal with your case alone, and, in a few words dispose of its duty in reference to this case. In looking at this record in this case, while there has been some testimony here tending to show that your participation in this affair in this mob and riot which finally resulted and culminated in the death of Etherington, was not, perhaps, like the active interest of some parties who may have engaged in that terrible transaction; yet, at the same time, the law recognizes very little distinction or difference between the participants in a riot and mob, leading to and culminating in so serious an event as disgraced this county and this state upon the 8th day of July. It was an overt act upon the part of everybody who was interested in it, in absolutely setting aside the majesty of the law and placing their own ideas and notions above all law. Society for its protection, the individual for his protection, and the property right of the citizens, depend at all times upon the supremacy of the law; and when people, through ignorance, or otherwise, assume to take a position that is going to over-ride the law, and the main purpose for which society and law were created (and courts are bound to recognize this situation), it is a terrible thing, that men should so lose their heads that they will forget, in a moment of excitement, or otherwise, and absolutely declare to themselves that they are above the law, and, instead of working out justice in courts of justice, take into their own hands and execute an individual, who, by all natural rights was entitled to the protection of the proper officers for his safety. So, while your participation in this affair may not have been to the same extent as others, who were more directly connected with the main event itself, yet your connection was criminal in this regard. You had a criminal intent, I believe, and I believe the jury was justified in returning the verdict which they did return against you. You may be unfortunate in being connected with that mob that night, but there are a whole lot of other unfortunate people who made the same mistake. Society must be protected against persons who throw blows upon society, and the courts cannot let persons go who sin against it, and not punish them for their overt acts. So, in this case, Mr. Watha, as much as this Court personally regrets to inflict punishment upon you, yet, for the protection of society, in that the people of this community may understand and know that there must be an observance of the law, whether he be white or black—whether he be rich or poor, or whatever his business may be, the Court passes the sentence in order that it may be impressed upon yourself and this community, and it is unfortunate that you are the one upon whom this lesson must be taught in the first instance. I cannot, taking all the facts in this case together, say but what you are justly convicted, and the judgment of the Court is and you are sentenced to be confined in the Ohio Penitentiary for the term of twenty years at hard labor, and that you pay the costs of this prosecution.

"The sheriff will take charge of you."

WARNINGS AGAINST XMAS DECORATIONS

The season is approaching when scores of lives are annually lost and hundreds of fires are started by carelessness in Christmas and holiday decorations. In addition to the first and panics in crowded stores, due to careless wiring of special displays or the catching fire of inflammable decorations, thousands of dangerous fires are kindled in homes, churches and Sunday schools. Wherever possible, electric lights should be used instead of candles on Christmas trees and the wiring should be carefully done. If this is not possible, the greatest precautions should be taken to see that the trees are firmly installed and well braced, so that they may not be overturned when presents are being taken down or by the over-enthusiasm of the children. Under no circumstances should cotton batting be used by amateur Santa Clauses for hair and whiskers, as non-inflammable substitutes can easily be had, and the risk of serious or fatal burning is excessive. The holidays of all periods, of the year, should be freed from the danger of terrible calamities, which is always present unless reasonable precautions are taken in the matter of holiday decorations and festivities.

Holiday express brought a new line of neckwear, combination sets and fancy vests for Hermann, the Clothier.

BAD WEATHER ARRIVED TODAY

Amateur weather prophets found themselves mistaken in predicting that at the hands of the weather man, Friday, when the prospect of a "White Christmas" gave way to a "Black Christmas," still there's hope, however, for the weather prediction for Saturday says that it will probably be a considerably colder and unsettled. The gulf air in the thermometer is on hand and is above zero to thirty-two degrees above, with the accompanying rain, accompanied with the holiday spirit, more ways than one, but the weather for the Christmas is still possible.

They grade and select their oranges into "firsts," "seconds," etc. "Firsts" are fancy, tree-ripened, hand-picked, seedless, fibreless, thin-skinned oranges—very individual orange a perfect specimen of the best growing oranges. They are not only more beautiful and more palatable than other oranges, but they are actually cheaper for they are nearly all meat and no waste. Your dealer sells "Sunkist" Oranges. Ask for them. You will know them by the tissue paper wrapper in which each "Sunkist" Orange is packed. On the wrapper note the label, "Sunkist." Keep all the wrappers. They are worth money to you.

Best California Lemons Come in "Sunkist" Wrappers

You can judge lemons by the "clothes" they wear. If they wear "Sunkist" wrappers they are juicy and good, for they are not thick-skinned or pithy. "Sunkist" lemons are equally valuable as "Sunkist" oranges. Wrappers are equally valuable.
